

COMPETENCY COMMITMENT STATEMENT

1. Our Commitment To Competency

AsiaPac Oil & Gas is committed to ensuring all of our employees are competent in their assigned tasks. Top Management is committed to providing our employees with all the required training, support and coaching to perform their jobs safely, efficiently and to the required standard. AsiaPac Oil & Gas management will be engaged in the process and provision of adequate resources to fully support the competency assurance program, and will place as much emphasis on the program as any other component of our business.

Our core values are what drive our commitment to competency and competency is at the root of each of our core values.

Our Mindset

Our Mindset is the core value of challenging norms, tackling obstacles and operating with a positive outlook. Competency, and knowing we are competent, is an essential ingredient in adopting a positive mindset.

Our People

The wellbeing of our employees is paramount. Wellbeing is not just health and safety, it is their overall satisfaction with their work, and the reduction of unnecessary pressure in their lives.

Being trained, coached, mentored and developed provides competence, which in turn provides confidence.

Our Customers

Our Customers rely on us being competent to deliver their expected outcomes. Assuring competency is assuring our customers that they are in good hands, and that their business outcomes will be achieved.

Our Business

A business is only as good as the people who are in it. To run a sustainable business, our people must be trained and competent in their jobs.

Our Health & Safety

Safety is the first priority of AsiaPac Oil & Gas. To ensure we are working safely, we must be competent, and provide a workplace that minimises risks.

Our Environment

Our environment depends on us being competent, and by being competent we will reduce the risk of uncontrolled spills, releases or any other event that may damage our natural surroundings.

Our Future

With competence comes understanding and knowledge. By sharing this knowledge, we can actively improve our industry.

I, on behalf of the AsiaPac Oil & Gas management team, commit to the competency of our people, the development of their careers, their safety at the workplace and above all, our company core values.
